Estate Valued
At $400,000

Kansas Colleges
To Receive Bulk

Kansas Foundation for Private Colleges was named principal beneficiary in the will of Maud Wyatt, who resided at 1036 Jackson. She died here May 6.

Filed Wednesday by Roetzel Jochems, the will named H. W. Hill, vice president of First National Bank, as executor. The bank is testamentary trustee for Maud Wyatt Educational Trust, through which the foundation will receive the funds.

The estate includes an estimated $300,000 in real estate and $100,000 personal property.

The will, dated July 3, 1957, lists a $5,000 gift to the trustees at the Home for the Aged, McPherson, Kan., which is operated by Church of the Brethren.

Seven nieces and nephews were left $10,000 each. They are J. Wayne McCoy, Topeka; R. S. McCoy, Cedar Vale, Kan.; W. W. McCoy, Little Rock, Ark.; Hazel L. Kalafatis, Granda Hills, Calif.; Alice Marea Wyatt, Tulsa, Okla.; Roger E. Wyatt, Cedar Vale, Kan.; and Anna Pauline Burnett, Dallas, Tex.

Clifford W. [unclear] will [unclear]

...of Cedar Vale was given funds to [unclear] degree of degrees [unclear] remains in the upper half of his class.

Stipulating that the bulk of the estate go to the foundation, Miss Wyatt said it was given "in the hope and belief that in so doing I will be erecting a memorial for all time in development of intellects and characters of deserving students in such colleges and universities."

The foundation, established as a non-profit corporation, provides a channel through which various firms and estates may contribute to students. Its 19 members are liberal arts, church-related colleges which are dependent upon donations.

Other Wills Filed

Three other wills have been filed this week in Probate Court, with Wichita University and Fairmount Community Church being named in the Arthur J. Hoare will, which was filed Wednesday by Dale W. Bruce.

The will, dated April 19, 1957, named Harlow J. Brown, 1490 Woodrow, as executor of the estate which was estimated to exceed $2,000.

Fifty shares of American Life & Accident Insurance stock were left to the university as an additional contribution to the Arthur J. Hoare scholarship.

A $2,000 note and renewal notes owed the deceased by Gordon and Edna Mary Jones was willed to Fairmount Community Church as was all cash in his account at a local building and loan association.

Mr. Hoare, who died here April 23, 1961, left all household goods and personal property to Bess Wright Hoare, a sister-in-law, Elk Rapids, Mich., to divide as directed.

Any of the effects which are not so divided are to be sold and the money given to the women's guild.

Remainder of the estate is to be donated to the University of Wichita, according to the will.

Sue Fischer, who died here April 12 left a will leaving her $4,250 estate to Michael O'Hara, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Bessie Swihart Woodring, her sister, Salina, Kan.

In the petition filed by the law firm of Aley, Morton & Darrah, it was requested that the court appoint Floyd A. Ensminger, 1142 Inverness, administrator. O'Hara was named executor, but cannot serve since he resides outside of Sedgwick County.

All real estate was left to O'Hara, with personal effects, cash and household goods to be equally divided between him and Mrs. Woodring.

An estate estimated at $20,000 in real estate and $4,000 in personal property is to be divided primarily between two daughters, according to a will dated May 17, 1961, filed in Probate Court Wednesday by Ray H. Tinder.

Cora A. Chamberlin, who died May 10 in Coal Valley, Ill., named H. F. Titus, 1138 Pearce, as executor.

She left $25 each to four grandchildren, LeVon Lewis, 1502 N. Pinecrest Roger W. Tillotson, 1812 Euclid; Billie Lourie, 2229 Jardine; and Shari Brainer, Dubuque, Iowa.

The remainder of her estate is to be divided between Audrey Wade Pence, Moline, Ill.; and Zelma Agnes Tillotson 1452 O

To the Presidents of Member Institutions

My dear Colleague:

Subject: Estate of Mrs. Maud Wyatt, Wichita, Kansas

About three weeks ago, an item appeared in the newspapers announcing the bequest of a Mrs. Maud Wyatt, Wichita, Kansas, in favor of The Kansas Foundation for Private Colleges, Inc.

Upon receiving this information, I called Mr. H. W. Hill, Vice President and Trust Officer of First National Bank in Wichita, the Executor of Mrs. Wyatt's estate. He has recently sent a copy of the Last Will and Testament as executed by her and promises a copy of the inventory of the estate when it is filed. It is his guess that the inventory will be prepared in late June or early July.

The Will stipulates individual bequests to seven nieces and nephews of $10,000 each and to one institution in the amount of $5,000. She also provides for a life income of $200 per month for a Clifford W. Jaquith of Wichita.

Subject to the payment of the above bequests out of the assets of her estate, she directs that the rest and residue of the estate shall constitute a testamentary trust, the First National Bank of Wichita being designated as the Trustee, the same to be known as "The Maud Wyatt Educational Trust." This trust is for the exclusive use and benefit in perpetuity of the colleges and universities which are from time to time members of "The Kansas Foundation of Private Colleges and Universities, Inc." She gives certain instructions as to the investment of the residue and then directs that after payment of all reasonable and necessary expenses the Trustee shall annually remit the net income from the trust assets to The Kansas Foundation which shall in turn cause the same to be fairly and equitably distributed among the private colleges and universities which may be participants in the Foundation and for the sole purpose of aiding in their general educational work.

Dear Mrs. Heberling:

Enclosed herewith you will find disbursement check from the Maud Wyatt Trust payable to the order of the Foundation in the amount of $4,901.42.

Within the next few days you will receive a copy of trustee's annual accounting to the probate court which will support this net figure. It is pleasing to report that this year's check is about $1,000 better than last year. Of particular interest to you will be the report that the trust's warehouse at 321 North Rock Island has now been leased at $450 monthly.

Re: Maud Wyatt Testamentary Trust (C1664)

Dear Mr. Stafford:

We are always interested in cooperating with any type of programs designed to augment bequests for our Kansas independent colleges and it is believed that your idea of preparing a brochure has considerable merit.

You have asked for some information regarding Maud Wyatt; but, unfortunately, I was not acquainted with this lady during her lifetime and therefore must rely on our files for background data. We do know that she was married at one time but are not advised as to whether the marriage was terminated by death of her spouse or otherwise. For quite a number of years prior to her death and illness which preceeded it, she ran a successful wallpaper and paint retail store where she actually handled all sales and bookkeeping. For many years, her confidant on legal matters was Attorney Roetzel Jochems of Jochems, Sargent and Blaes, Farmers and Bankers Life Building, Wichita, Kansas 67202; and undoubtedly, if he chose, he could give you information regarding this lady. For quite a number of years prior to her death, her real estate counsellor was Nestor Weigand, Sr., Realtor, 110 North Main, Wichita, Kansas 67202, and it was under his recommendations that she acquired a great many parcels of local real estate. I am enclosing xerox copies of her last will and testament as well as two newspaper clippings which may afford you some information, particularly in regard to the fact that she had no immediate family although she did have nephews and nieces who benefited under her will.

If I can assist you further from our records, we would be most pleased to do so at your request.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Jochems:

Mr. H. W. Hill of the First National Bank in Wichita has suggested that I write to you. Of course we are aware that the details of the Maud Wyatt Testamentary Trust are handled through you. Our colleges have been the recipients of the generosity of the Wyatt Trust for almost ten years.

I wrote Mr. Hill, indicating to him that we were thinking of preparing a brochure showing what this trust has meant to our member colleges through the Foundation in the hope that it might stimulate similar bequests.

Since I did not know Maud Wyatt personally, I wonder if you would be willing to say anything about her of a personal nature that we might use as an introduction to such a brochure. Of course we have the details of the trust. Anything that you would care to suggest would be appreciated, and I assume that such an idea would meet with your approval. We do not plan any extensive campaign in regard to seeking bequests. A good deal of this is done by individual colleges. However, from time to time we do have those who are interested in this way of assisting the colleges and we would appreciate your help in the above regard.

Sincerely,

Executive Director

Emmet,

Mrs. Maude Wyatt, born July 13, 1877 at Paola, Kansas moved to Wichita in 1910, where she worked as a bookkeeper and later became president of the Young Brothers Decorating Co. Little is known of her husband John who died about 1934. Mrs. Wyatt was a frugal but generous person and in 1953 disregarding the 20% contribution limit gave $10,000 to her church in one year. She did however become aware of high taxes when in 1956 she sold 25' of land she acquired in 1935 for $15,000 <sup>AND</sup> selling <sup>IT</sup> for $56,000, It was then at age 79 she talked with her accountant Mr. Lauer and and her attorney Mr. Blaes, <sup>AND</sup> having no children of her own, she said "I would like to leave a living memorial for all time to come in development ~~and~~ of the intellect and character of deserving students"

Dear Williard:

Just recently I received notice from the Topeka Office that the funds from the Maud Wyatt Testamentary Trust were received. Even though this is an annual gift that comes to the colleges like clockwork we just cannot allow our senses of appreciation and gratitude to become callous and not express our thanks over and over. If there are members of the family still living, would you as a Trust Officer of the Fund express to them our deep gratitude. I sure am speaking for all the independent colleges in the State of Kansas. Maud Wyatt's gift is a living testimony to the faith and belief scores of people have in the role the independent colleges play in the whole field of higher education in the State of Kansas.

Dear Mr. Lauer:

Your name was recently mentioned as a person who had considerable initiative in the designation of the Maud Wyatt Trust to the Kansas Independent College Fund.

It may interest you to know that the private colleges of our state have received a total of $297,450.00 over a quarter century of dis~~tribution~~tribution. I came to this office six years ago, and have very little of the background regarding the establishment of the bequest. We do have a copy of the will in our files.

Allow me, after all these years, to express our gratitude to all who had some part in this perpetual assistance to our fine colleges and ~~un-~~iversities.

If you can share any information about Maud Wyatt, it would be good to have something in our records. We don't even have a photo of our benefactor!

Father Alquin Hemmen reminded us of your role in the Maud Wyatt Trust arrangements. He continues his work on behalf of Benedictine College.

Re; Maud Wyatt

RECEIVED
SEP 12 1983

Dear Dr. Smith

I received your letter dated 28 June and have delayed answering for several reasons, neither valid. So here it goes, in narrative form.

My first contact with Maud Wyatt was during the 50's when Union Development was attempting to buy 50' of her property just south of the Union National Bank. The sale was made and since she so hated to part with the property, we left her continue collecting the rent from the tenants and store her junk there, she had at one time been the manager of a paint & wallpaper store in the general area.

I was working for the law firm of Jochems Sargent & Blaes as office manager and accountant and managing property for Union Development, so I was the one Maud brought the rent to- I have no picture of her, but remember how she looked. She was short approx. 5'2" and rather heavy, sandy hair turned gray with a poor red rinse, and at 74 or so, she was not to photogenic.

Maud was born in Wichita, and went to business college, from there she went to work as a bookkeeper for the paint & wallpaper store which she later turned up owning. The above 50' of property now sold prompted her to seek help with her tax return. The sale reported, along with some substantial contributions to the little church in her neighborhood, (in excess of 10,000 plus the use of her pink cadillac) she complained bitterly about how the Government wanted everything she owned, it was then that the first seeds were sown- it developed that she liked young people and believed in education, liked Southwestern College but did not like her contact with that institution. The Private Colleges of Kansas was the answer. The will was drawn, Emmet Blaes & Catherine Wells witnessed-time passed and Maud continued to make substantial contributions to her little church.

Later on a neighbor of hers came to see me and expressed her fears that Maud was being starved to death by her church. A lady was hired to look after her, and I bought groceries for her., shortly after this incompetency proceedings were started. She believed in the First National Bank very strongly, but they did not want to help in the proceedings. (she had in excess of 80,000 in her checking account) probably the reason for not helping just in case she was not incompetent.

Maud Wyatt

Maud owned other property when she died, which you are aware of from the copy of the will.

Maud lived in an old upstairs 4 plex apartment on Jackson, which she owned. I believe she acquired her property by being frugal almost stingy with herself, her only vice was the Pink Cadillac.

The law firm of Jochems Sargent & Blaes have the legal files and since I left their employ in April 1977, do not know how much of this is still available

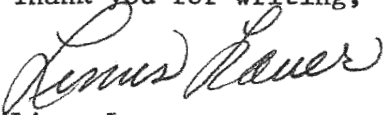

Mr. T. Henry Stafford did visit my home on March 3, 1971 after I had alerted Father Alquin Hemmen (my Uncle) of problems. Mr. Staffords opening remark was "What do you want out of this?" My answer was I have 6 children and if any ever go to a private college , it'll have to be because some Maud Wyatt made it possible

I do have an old Oil Canvas painting of very poor quality that Maud gave me hanging in my basement to remind me of Maud.

Father Hemmen has given me occasional updates on the Trust and asks if I know any other Mauds.

I was very happy to receive your letter and feel appreciated by someone other than Uncle Alquin. My last letter was from Mr. Stafford on March 5th 1971 thanking me for the visit. I did find out that the results were fruitful.

Thank you for writing,

Dear Mr. Lauer:

We are deeply grateful for your letter which fills in some of the gaps in our knowledge of the Maud Wyatt bequest. I am more convinced than ever that people such as you often bring about the major gifts to worthy causes. Your quiet counsel with Maud Wyatt will go on giving to Kansas young people and their colleges for generations.

Sometime soon I hope to use some of your comments in a KICF mailing to attorneys around the state. There are so many like her who have no will, and very little thought as to their estate. The Maud Wyatt story is a good illustration of what can be done in similar cases.

Incidentally, the old painting might some day hang in the conference room at KICF as a reminder of Maud Wyatt's gift. Maybe you have other plans for it, of course.

Again, on behalf of all the beneficiaries of the Maud Wyatt Trust, our eternal thanks for your part in our present good fortune.

Dear Mr. Able:

The nineteen independent colleges and universities of Kansas fulfill a very important role in our state and in the nation! One of our corporate leaders recently called them "national treasures."

Annual giving through the Kansas Independent College Fund is one way you can assist more than 14,000 young people to realize their goal of a college education.

Last year, you made a gift of $38,661.60 to the private colleges and universities in Kansas, marking the twenty-fifty year of your participation in the Fund. We continue to need your help!

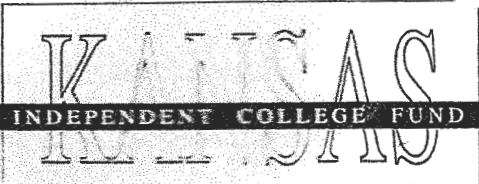

At a time when so much adverse attention is focused on the quality of higher education, we take pride in that our member schools continue their commitment to excellence. Your gift helps us to grow.

Please give generously to our efforts to lift the quality of life in the nation through higher education, and to the well-being of the country through the lives of our young people.

RE: Maud Wyatt Testamentary Trust

Dear Dr. Kelly:

The December 29, 2000 annual income distribution of $22,698.30 from the Maud Wyatt Trust to the Kansas Independent College Fund was an increase of $4,424.00 over the 1999 amount. A large contributing factor was expenses that were eliminated when the 1607 S. Broadway property was sold in February. We knew for several years that achieving a sale would be beneficial and are thankful it has now been accomplished.

Another very pleasant memory from calendar year 2000 was the visit by Sister Tarcisia Roths and you on May 11. We are pleased that the Trust was able to make a $12,500.00 discretionary distribution from Principal. The opportunity of using a matching grant to enhance faculty development in the use of technology through a collaborative program must be exciting for all of your schools.

We are pleased that the Wyatt Trust not only had increased income to distribute, but could also participate in the special matching grant program during calendar year 2000. Best wishes to KICF for a very successful year in 2001.

Sincerely,
